ENGL 220 Milton Professor John Rogers

Paradise Lost (1667)

Since first this Subject for Heroic Song Pleas'd me long choosing, and beginning late.

--Paradise Lost 9.25-26

See how from far upon the Eastern road
The star-led Wizards haste with odors sweet:
O run, prevent them with thy humble ode,
And lay it lowly at his blessed feet;
Have thou the honor first, thy Lord to greet.
--Milton, "On the Morning of Christ's Nativity" (1629)

His work is not the greatest of heroick poems, only because it is not the first.

-- Dr. Johnson, Life of Milton

Nor did God merely breathe that spirit into man, but moulded it in each individual, and infused it throughout, enduing and embellishing it with its proper faculties.

--Milton, De doctrina Christiana (On Christian Doctrine), chapter 7

Is this the Seat our Conqueror has given? And this the Climate we must change for Heaven? These Regeions and this Realm my Wars have got; This mournful Empire is the Loser's Lot.

--John Dryden, State of Innocence and Fall of Man: An Opera (cf. Paradise Lost 1.242-45)

For Spirits when they please
Can either Sex assume, or both; so soft
And uncompounded is thir Essence pure,
Not ti'd or manacl'd with joint or limb,
Nor founded on the brittle strength of bones,
Like cumbrous flesh; but in what shape they choose
Dilated or condens't, bright or obscure,
Can execute thir aery purposes,
And works of love or enmity fulfil.

(PL 1.423-31)

Adam Unparadis'd incubabat--brooded monism, vitalism--see ch. 7 of The Christian Doctrine iambic pentameter end-stopped verse, enjambment

Whatever pure thou in the body enjoy'st (And pure thou were created) we enjoy In eminence, and obstacle find none Of membrane, joint, or limb, exclusive bars: Easier than air with air, if Spirits embrace, Total they mix, union of pure with pure Desiring.

(PL 8.622-28)
